The Challenge of Climate Change

Sant'Anna School Pisa, Piazza Martiri della Libertà, 33
Aula Magna 14:00
10th May 2018

Sir Brian Hoskins

Chair, Grantham Institute for Climate Change, Imperial College London
Professor of Meteorology, University of Reading

Climate change provides a challenge to scientists, engineers, national and international politics, society and our species. After a brief summary of our present understanding of the science of climate change, the nature of the challenge for the different groups will be discussed.
